

The Lion Who Made
Friends With The Genie

by Carol

 Carnegie Library of Pittsburgh

Once upon a time there was a lion who loved to eat cupcakes the lion ate the cake in one delicious gulp.

On day while walking in the desert he saw a tent with a lamp in it. The lion was happy.

He went to the tent and picked up the lamp. He really liked the shine on his lamp but notice his prints were all over the lamp. The lion was surprised.

He began to lightly rub his prints off the lamp. But that was not working so he started to rub harder and harder and guess what happend? The lion roared while holding the lamp.

Out popped a Genie. The lion was surprised.

At first the lion was surprised to see the genie. After they began to play he was happy to have a friend he could eat share his cupcake with. The lion was happy.

The genie and the lion shared the cupcake and played all day. The happy lion gave the cake to genie. The lion was happy. The happy lion cheered.

It was getting dark and it was time for the lion to return home. They said goodbye and the lion went home happy, The genie went into the tent. The lion was happy.